Types and Sources of Aid

Graduate Aid:

Students who are admitted to the school as graduate students, i.e. have a bachelor's degree (or higher) or the equivalent of three years of undergraduate study (90 semester units), are eligible to borrow graduate-level Stafford loans. Subsidized Stafford loans do not accrue interest while you are a student or during the 6-month grace period after you cease enrollment. Unsubsidized Stafford interest accrues from the time the loan is disbursed. The maximum subsidized loan for each semester is $4,250. The maximum unsubsidized loan for each semester is $5,000 ($6,000 beginning in the Fall 2007 semester). This works out to total loan funds of $27,750 per calendar year/3 semesters or $30,750 beginning in the Fall of 2007. There may be up to a 2% loan origination fee deducted from loans made prior to 7/1/07, and 1.5% fee for loans made after 7/1/07. In addition, a 1% default fee may also be deducted.

Undergraduate Aid:

Students who are admitted to the school and do not meet the requirements of graduate status are eligible to borrow undergraduate Stafford loans. Subsidized Stafford loans do not accrue interest while you are a student or during the 6-month grace period after you cease enrollment. Unsubsidized Stafford interest accrues from the time the loan is disbursed. The maximum subsidized loan for each semester is $2,750. (This works out to total loan funds of $15,750 per calendar year/3 semesters). There may be up to a 2% loan origination fee deducted from loans made prior to 7/1/07, and 1.5% fee for loans made after 7/1/07. In addition, a 1% default fee may also be deducted. Undergraduates may also qualify for Pell Grants up to $4,050 for spring and summer 07 and $4310 for up to two semesters per year beginning the Fall Semester 2007; and SEOG grants. Undergraduates are advanced to graduate status at the point when 90 semester units at this school have been earned.
